

Project Overview: Global Governance Frameworks

Building the infrastructure for a more cooperative, resilient, and future-ready world.

The Challenge: A World in Polycrisis

Humanity faces an unprecedented "polycrisis": cascading failures in our climate, economic, and political systems that threaten global stability. Our 20th-century governance systems are fundamentally inadequate for these 21st-century challenges. We need new ways of thinking and organizing that can match the complexity of our interconnected world.

Our Mission: An Interoperable Future

The Global Governance Frameworks project is not proposing a single solution. Instead, our mission is to create the tools, patterns, and frameworks that enable different governance systems to interoperate, share lessons, and evolve together. We are building the open-source infrastructure that allows many models to coexist, communicate, and collaborate.

This work is a proof-of-concept project exploring possible approaches to multi-level governance and aims to inspire discussion and innovation.

What We Provide

- A Platform: A dedicated platform for developing and sharing frameworks for governance interoperability and meta-governance structures.
- The Flagship Framework: The Treaty for Our Only Home, a comprehensive blueprint for transforming global governance from a system that generates crises into one that generates resilience.
- A Tiered System of Frameworks: A structured approach to addressing global challenges, from Tier 1: Urgent Global Stability & Justice to Tier 4: Visionary & Meta Governance.
- Open Source Tools: A collection of patterns, guides, and digital tools to support the implementation of these frameworks.

Our Approach

Our organization is an experiment in the principles we advocate for. We are guided by core principles like Radical Transparency, Subsidiarity, and Relational Integrity and operate as a holarchical network of autonomous 'Labs'. Our content is developed collaboratively—shaped by conversations with AI systems and grounded in a belief that good governance must emerge from shared wisdom.

How to Get Involved

This is a living proposal, and your engagement is critical. You are invited to:

1. Explore our frameworks to understand our vision.
2. Join the community to participate in discussions.
3. Contribute your skills in framework development, translation, web development, or outreach.

Learn more at globalgovernanceframeworks.org